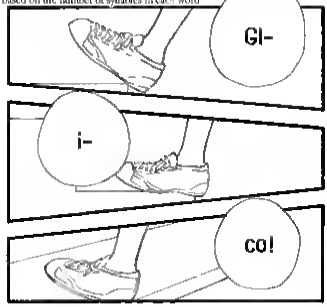
Are you stupid or something?! I'm not going to play some little kids' game!!
Hmm??
BUT IT'S FUN!
Eh-?

note: In "Glico" or "Guriko" you go up stairs using rock paper-scissors games to advance. When you win a round, you get to advance 3 steps if you won with rock ("gurikō" "Glico"--the company that makes the popular snack Pocky) or 5 steps if you won with scissors ("chokoreeto" "chocolate") or paper (panappuru, pineapple). The first person to the top is the winner. The words come from the terms for "rock" (gu") "paper" ("pa") and "scissors" ("choki) . The number of steps advanced is based on the number of syllables in each word



One two three go!
